Reservation Counter Opens Applications for Fall Semester Scholarship

Scholarship program recognizes students who have a passion for community service and inspiring travel experiences

LEHI, UTAH, UNITED STATES, September 19, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Reservation Counter, a leading online hotel accommodation provider, today announced that applications are now open for its $1,500 fall semester scholarship. Students enrolled in a two-year college, four-year college, or graduate program are encouraged to apply. The need-based scholarship program is designed to reward students who have a passion for travel and giving back to their communities, and is awarded each fall and spring semester.

The application process invites students to describe their extra-curricular activities, community service endeavors, lifetime goals, financial situation and a favorite travel destination that has inspired them. The deadline to apply for the fall semester is Nov. 1. This is the third consecutive year that Reservation Counter has awarded scholarships, with past winners attending schools in Arizona, Colorado and Massachusetts.

"Before attending college, I spent a year studying in Israel, and a year working with youth in Melbourne, Australia. My experiences there were incredible. In Australia, I co-organized a weekly volunteer program, with over 100 students. I also planned summer and winter camps, and a number of other programs throughout the year," said Chaya Kosofsky, student at Bay Path University and winner of the 2017 spring scholarship. "Now that I am in school, I continue to pursue leadership opportunities in my community back at home. I am thankful for the scholarship from Reservation Counter."
