

SOBO CONCEPTS INTRODUCES SWAG 3.0

Branded Products take on a whole new dimension with Augmented Reality

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, August 22, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SOBO Concepts, known for it's SWAG with Style has just raised the bar when it comes to providing customers with branded products with the recent launch of it's new app, SWAG 3.0.

SOBO recently partnered with STARTIT, an Italian based company made up of some of the world's leading designers and engineers to build the foundational technologies that make Augmented Reality possible. Using their technology, SOBO Concepts has developed an app, the first of it's kind, called SWAG 3.0. This app allows customers to include augmented reality in any of it's merchandise to give a more personal experience.

What is augmented reality you may be asking? SOBO Concepts CEO Dean Schwartz explained it this way, "Simply stated, augmented reality is a way of viewing the world, just like you always do, but with added information and images. For instance, AR can be used to make point of sale or in-store experiences really stand out, create a 'try before you buy' experience, or drop traditional brochures in favor of something more innovative and memorable."

If you think Augmented Reality sounds expensive, it can be which is why SWAG 3.0 is so exciting. It allows anyone to take advantage of this amazing technology without building it from the ground up and spending a fortune.

This technology is not just a novelty, it has a huge variety of commercial uses that is expected to grow dramatically over the next 12 - 24 months. According to Juniper Research, "Mobile augmented reality to generate 1.4 billion downloads by 2015 as major brands embrace the concept."
