ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, UNITED STATES, July 23, 2014

The Mayor, along with several key business leaders and local political figures, met to welcome Mr. O'Shea and his Team of Intelligence and Investigative Specialists to the Old Town area.

"The new office allows us greater access to our customers in the surrounding region as well as adjacent states," O'Shea discussed with Mayor Euille. "We are 5 minutes from Reagan National Airport, a few blocks from the King Street Metro, and centrally located in one of the most beautiful and historic cities on the East Coast."

No matter what your business is...we can solve that problem that is hurting you.

Brian O'Shea

O'Shea went on to comment that Striker Pierce has served corporate, legal, and private Clients in the United States and throughout the world.

"We provide solutions that no one else can. For example, we recently solved a problem for a Client who was being unfairly attacked online through numerous sites. We simply took over the conversations, identified those involved in these libelous attacks, and leveled the 'playing field' for the Client. We have also solved executive level risk management and due diligence issues, countered competitive intelligence collection for targeted clients, and constantly provide human capital due diligence solutions for our Clients. We even have a domestic team for dealing with private and/or sensitive, personal cases in a discreet manner. This new location can only enhance access to us by our Clients in a comfortable and safe setting."

Striker Pierce is fast becoming the "go-to" solution for companies and individuals who need creative solutions to unique problems in a discreet and efficient manner.

"We feel good about this growth," stated Johnathan Farley, Director of Operations. "Clients are seeing the value and the clear return on investment we provide through our service...and we deliver each and every time. Like Brian told me when I came on board, 'no matter what your business is, we can solve that problem that is hurting you.' What's more, we do not advertise any service which we do not already have years of experience providing."

Alexandria businesses have already taken notice and O'Shea states that their calendar is already filling up. In addition to Alexandria, Striker Pierce has plans to open additional offices in Florida, the Pacific Northwest, and Sao Paulo Brazil in the next few months. The King Street address will serve as the new flagship office for the Striker Pierce organization.
