

Hurricane Katrina Survivor and Screenwriter Jennifer Gremillion launches inspirational book on surviving life storms.

Screenwriter Jennifer Gremillion unveils her inspiring new book "Life Storms: Hurricane Katrina-Surviving Life Storms Through Thriving Life Scripts".

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA, August 6, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On August 29, 2005, Hurricane Katrina blew into the Gulf of Mexico wreaking havoc on the Gulf Coast and Louisiana. For Jennifer Gremillion, her life changed overnight: her roof blew off and rainwater spilled in the house until flood water filled her home. Her family evacuated on August 28th to Baton Rouge, Louisiana and Houston, Texas for three weeks. They moved thirteen times before they called Encinitas, California home.

A decade after this devastating event, Jennifer Gremillion, a Hurricane Katrina Survivor and New Orleans native, unveils her book "Life Storms: Hurricane Katrina- Surviving Life Storms Through Thriving Life Scripts". The Author and Screenwriter, represented by Little Studio Films, discussed her journey of Surviving Life Storms Through Thriving Life Scripts.

Part Novel part Self Help Book, "Life Storms: Hurricane

Katrina" is a love story to herself and to others about Impetuous Growth, Gripping Challenges, Lessons Learned, Recognized Miracles. Everybody has weathered many other storms in life and Jennifer shares how she claimed her authentic soul in the process.

Life Scripts are written by others and handed to us. Most people are actors following scripts given to them. Some people don't question and don't change it. But there are others who discard it and edit their own script. Jennifer chose the latter: to edit, direct, and create her own Life Script and by doing so she became the master of her heart and soul.

She hopes to touch people's lives by showing that she is the testimony that everything is possible with belief, perseverance, and introspection.

Life Storms: Hurricane Katrina will be available in print ($18.99) and Kindle ($7.99) on Amazon.com on August 12, 2015. A percentage of each Amazon.com purchase will be donated to Nevus Outreach, Inc., an organization dedicated to improving awareness, supporting others affected with Giant Pigmented Nevus, and finding a cure.
