Description

Wiseguyreports.Com Adds “Glass Packaging -Market Demand, Growth, Opportunities and analysis of Top Key Player Forecast to 2021” To Its Research Database

Global Glass Packaging Market is estimated to reach US$59.604 billion by 2021 at a CAGR of 4.34% over the forecast period from current estimate of US$46.202 billion. Increasing alcoholic drinks consumption and growth in investment in the pharmaceutical sector will drive the demand for glass packaging solutions over the forecast period. Rising disposable income, changing lifestyle, growing demand for fruit and soft drinks are some of the other factors driving the demand for glass packaging solutions. Recyclability and inertness are some of the major advantages offered by glass packaging products, which makes them more suitable for various packaging applications. Even though this market is expected to witness moderate growth over the next five years, significant challenge will be posed by plastic packaging solutions.
