Alarming health issues caused due to tobacco is the main driver to promote growth in the market. Growing number of cancer patients due to excessive consumption of tobacco worldwide is one of the major reasons for the consumers to quit tobacco. However, several people find it difficult to get rid of the tobacco addiction and hence prefer e-cigarette over conventional cigarettes. Moreover, several govt initiatives to promote awareness about the health issues caused by tobacco consumption has increased number of people switching from conventional cigarettes to e-cigarettes over the past couple of years.
