Mixing cutting edge philosophy, along with a newfound elegance, crafted into the flexible scheduling program, ensures parents, that their families are being well enriched and attended to in a multifaceted environment.

Throughout the "play-based" programs, staff works hand-in-hand with the children choosing and personalizing their activities, based on their individual or current level of interests. The WeVillage teachers, encourage children with interactive play, helping with facilitating their individual social skills along the way.

“Play is an artistically essential approach to the core of learning here at WeVillage.” - Tiffany

Sounds as if they are just playing? Not even close. Experts say, that a "play based curriculum" assists and helps teach in a multitude of ways. In fact, studies show they are learning valuable skills as well.

- Improving and learning important social skills;
- Confidence
- The ability to build relationships with their peers
- Attending and listening to instructions
- Being able to solve social problems
- Effectively communicate their emotions
- Concentrating on and persisting challenging tasks
- As well as early math skills

WeVillage "play-based" classrooms are broken up into sections:

- Custom made "Colored Tornado"
- Interactive kitchen
- Dress-up areas
- Reading nooks
- Interactive blocks and lego building stations
- Along with of an array of toy areas

In selected locations, WeVillage, is now implementing foreign language clubs into their curriculum, coming Spring of 2017.
