The book publishing segment includes publishers of academic, professional, general and other (fictions, non-fiction etc) books. The market value of this segment refers to the domestic B2C sales of books only at the retail sales price (RSP).

The newspaper segment is valued as the sum total of all revenues gained from the sale of newspapers including those gained through circulation, subscription (inc. online subscription), and advertising revenue.

The magazine segment value is calculated as the revenues generated by publishers from B2C sales of copies of their products, and does not include advertising revenues.

Any currency conversions used in the creation of this report have been calculated using constant 2015 annual average exchange rates.

The global publishing market had total revenues of $758,350.8m in 2015, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 1.7% between 2011 and 2015.

The book segment was the market's most lucrative in 2015, with total revenues of $603,466.0m, equivalent to 79.6% of the market's overall value.

With both the Europe and North America markets shrinking in recent years, the increase in the Asia-Pacific market manage to bring the global market to a positive growth. In addition, the global market is expected to pick in the forecast period.
