PUNE, INDIA, January 10, 2017
/EINPresswire.com/ --

The analysts forecast the global DevOps platform market to grow at a CAGR of 19.42% during the period 2016-2020.

DevOps is an emerging trend in the IT market, which is gaining popularity at a rapid pace.

DevOps technology combines software development and operational processes to manage end-to-end systems development lifecycle (SDLC). Organizations are embracing DevOps solutions to innovate their software delivery supply chain processes. DevOps tools are becoming more popular because they provide a holistic IT environment for the automation of software development processes. DevOps works on the principle of collaborative work management systems by combining people, processes, and technology. It is certainly more than a technology and methodology for software developers, as DevOps solutions not only connect development processes and operational processes but also add value at every stage of the supply chain management of software products.
