

Renowned International Law Experts Recommend International Criminal Court (ICC), if Sri Lanka continues to Fail to Act

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, February 28, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ --

In a Press Conference held in Geneva within hours of Sri Lankan Foreign Minister Mangala Samaraweera's address to the UN Human Rights Council, a group of well renowned international Law experts recommended Sri Lanka be referred International Criminal Court (ICC), "if Sri Lanka continues in bad faith and/or fail to take significant steps towards implementing the word and spirit of the UN Human Rights Council Resolution 30/1, including establishing a hybrid war crimes court with the participation of international judges and prosecutors."

The group Monitoring and Accountability Panel (MAP), was established to monitor Sri Lanka's compliance to the UN Human Rights Council Resolution 30/1, which Sri Lanka itself co-sponsored.

Based on the documented events of the last twelve months, the MAP has come to the following conclusions:

- 1) The Government of Sri Lanka is not acting in good faith with respect to its commitments under the UN Human Rights Council Resolution 30/1;
- 2) Human Rights violations and abuses amounting to crimes under international law continue to be committed in Sri Lanka with impunity;
- 3) Key reforms to the country's justice and security sectors have failed to materialize; and
- 4) The initial reaction of the Government of Sri Lanka to the Final Report of the Consultation Task Force on Reconciliation (CTF) appointed by the Sri Lankan Government itself amounts to a cynical and reckless repudiation of the stated aspirations of Sri Lanka's citizens.
