

What the World Needs Now: New Age Music Circle Releases its Ninth Volume of Peaceful Music on SOUNDS FROM THE CIRCLE IX

The beloved annual series curated by Suzanne Doucet offers a wide range of relaxing and inspiring music, promoting both leading artists and promising newcomers.

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, July 7, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New Age Music Circle founder, Suzanne Doucet, announces the official worldwide release of the online community's annual compilation: Sounds from the Circle IX - 2017, available now through participating artists and online playlists.

This promotional effort, which began as a fun project between Doucet and a friend, publicist Beth Ann Hilton, has evolved into the leading annual series supporting New Age musicians while boosting the music genre itself.

"This year's compilation is sequenced to feel like a day in music," says Doucet, "from awakening with Al Conti's "Mystic" to the quiet "Night Whispers" of Liquid Mind XI: Deep Sleep." The Sounds of the Circle compilations are always eclectic, showcasing the wide range of inspiration, interpretation and musical vision within the New Age genre from countries across the globe including the Canada, Australia, England, South Africa, Finland, Ireland, Brazil, Germany, the U.S. and more.

Luttrell – Catherine Marie Charlton - Lia
Scallon – Michael Diamond – Joanne
Lazzaro – Hennie Bekker – Liquid Mind.

Despite past controversy over the term "new age," the duo says finding new music to share year after year is never a problem; in fact, the genre has seen a rise in popularity among "millennials" and music tastemakers. New Age playlists online abound under a variety of names and themes, from "Relaxation" to "Meditation" and "Yoga" music. A sampling of the New Age music sub-genres included on the compilation are Mystical, Chill, Ambient, Meditative, Vocals, Nature, Trance, World, Solo Piano, Space, Electronic, and Piano w/Instrumental.

Doucet says she provides the promotional CD to programmers for airplay and giveaways; previous volumes of SFTC appeared on New Age Music Odyssey, New Age Stars, New Age Universe, and was chosen as "Album of the Year" by Reviews New Age and New Age World Music. International radio programs such as Radio Despi's La Otra Orilla in Spain or Radio Plenitude in France have dedicated entire programs to playing the compilation start to finish. Programmers are invited to email requests for copies to bethhilton \(at\) theBcompany \(dot\) com.

Sounds from the Circle IX is available as a physical CD, and is also duplicated as online playlists in Spotify and iTunes. The CDs are also distributed at the ZMR Awards, INATS, MIDEM, GATE, GRAMMY events, film festivals, celebrity gift bags, and industry events where the music reaches new listeners, filmmakers, music therapists and others.

"Each year seems better than the last," says Doucet. "It's hard to believe that we're looking at a 10th Anniversary Special Edition next year...we're going to have to come up with something really special, and we will...we have a lot of fun with it."

Participating artists must be members of the online community, the New Age Music Circle, which is open to both fans and artists at <http://newagemusik.ning.com>; the compilation is searchable everywhere using @SoundsFTCircle and #SFTC.
