

Missing: Pro Bono Attorney For Class Action Lawsuit In Miskitu-Nicaragua Case

Hon. Judge Tigar in U S District Court-NOR-CA-Orders-Rev. Josephine E-secure counsel before going forward-class action claims against both President & Nicaragua.

OAKLAND, CA, UNITED STATES, July 17, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Class Action Lawsuit In Miskitu-Nicaragua Case Requires Counsel

San Francisco, July 17, 2017 - The Honorable Judge Jon S. Tigar who is presiding in United States District Court in Northern California case of Robertson vs. Nicaragua dismissing a portion of the lawsuit pending the plaintiffs securing counsel. The Court has ordered the Miskitu government in exile to secure counsel before going forward with their class action claims against the Republic of Nicaragua, et al.

The plaintiffs have satisfactorily pursued and self-represented themselves in this lawsuit for the last five months without the ability to secure counsel which now is both essential and crucial for the Miskitu peoples to proceed with their complaint with less than a week to be in compliance with Judge Tigar's order issued on June 26th, 2017.

The most common way people give up their power is by thinking they don't have any.”

– Alice Walker

the person or plaintiffs are in the USA then the USA is "touched and concerned" and they can file international claims against a foreign nation.

The Miskitu nation is seeking a team player lawyer with the federal credentials to properly represent the indigenous peoples of the Miskitu territories as well as those Miskitu descendants that now live in the United States and welcome all inquiries. If you are a lawyer and meet the criteria mentioned in this press release please feel free to contact our Miskitu representative at your earliest convenience.
