Global 3D Concrete Printing Market

Description

3D concrete printing is an innovative technology that has proved to be highly effective in the field of construction. This technology can create an architecture that can adapt better to the environment. 3D concrete printing uses an extrusion technique to deposit materials to construct a building. This process requires data preparation like any other additive manufacturing process, material preparation, and cement-based mortar. The technology holds competencies in substantially reduced construction cost, reduction in error, timely execution, flexibility in design, and better environmental impact. 3D concrete printing is gathering large-scale attention across the world, and many companies are experimenting with the concrete mixes and printing technology to develop construction techniques.

Covered in this report

The report covers the present scenario and the growth prospects of the global 3D concrete printing market for 2017-2021. To calculate the market size, the report considers the demand for construction from key regions.

- APAC

- Europe
- ROW

The Global 3D Concrete Printing Market 2017-2021, has been prepared based on an in-depth market analysis with inputs from industry experts. The report covers the market landscape and its growth prospects over the coming years. The report also includes a discussion of the key vendors operating in this market.

Key vendors

- LafargeHolcim,
- Sika,
- Skanska,
- Ying Chuang Construction Technology (Shanghai).

Other prominent vendors

- DUS
- Kier Group
- Foster + Partners
- Tree
- Balfour Beatty
- Carillion

Market driver

- Increased cost-effectiveness
