

Thales to discuss multi-mission sensors at Air Missile Defence Technology 2017

Thales joins speaker line-up for leading AMD conference in Prague this October.

LONDON, ENGLAND, UNITED KINGDOM, September 11, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi Group has recently announced that Wim Schuttert, Technical Director at Thales Nederland, has joined the speaker line-up for the 2nd annual Air Missile Defence Technology 2017 conference taking place on the 24th and 25th of October in Prague.

Speaking on Day 2 of the conference, Mr Schuttert will bring insights on multi-mission sensors and how they have become solutions towards a credible air and missile defence capability. More details on his presentation can be found on www.airmissiledefence.com/

With many nations increasing budgets to strengthen their collective defense structures, particularly the development of air and missile defence capabilities, many solution providers continue to enhance and develop next-generation platforms to secure contracts and collaborations. This is one of the key focuses of the conference.

Featured industry presentations will also include:

- MIC4AD - Rafael's Unified C4I System for Air & Missile Defence
Colonel Meir Ben Shaya (Ret'd), C4I SME & Business Development Manager, Rafael
- Extended Naval Air and Missile Defence
Fabio Bonanni, Head of Air Defence Architectures and Italy Technology, MBDA
- Considerations for the Development of a Single Integrated GBAD Solution to Meet Today's and Tomorrow's Airborne Threat Set
Ian Spillane, Chief Engineer, Mission Support, Lockheed Martin UK
- How to Use Known Technology in a New Setting to Gain Strategic Advantage in IAMD
Lars Krogh Vammen, Business Development Manager, Weibel Scientific A/S
- The Value of Open Systems Integration to Enable Joint Missile Defence Operations
Northrop Grumman
