President Trump and Country Star Michael Shawn Hartman Discuss Tragic Shooting at Country Concert in Las Vegas, and condemn Fired CBS VP Hayley Geftman-Gold.

MALIBU, CALIFORNIA, USA, October 3, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Country singer Jason Aldean was reportedly on stage during the Route 91 Harvest Country Music Festival Sunday night in Las Vegas when a psychotic gunman opened fire on the crowd, reportedly killing 59 victims, and wounding at least 527. As the world read on in horror, former CBS Vice-President and Senior Counsel Hayley Geftman-Gold, aka Hayley Hattman; 41, from Brooklyn, New York, shunned any resemblance of sanity; reportedly dragging CBS, journalists, and lawyers through the mud as badly as anyone could, with her insane post. Shortly after the announcement of the horrible massacre in Las Vegas, the fired CBS Geftman-Gold reportedly posted on Facebook, "I'm actually not even sympathetic bc country music fans often are Republican gun toters."

Though we are saddened by the oppression and evil of some people, let America stand proud and strong, standing by each other in such times.”

Country star Michael Shawn Hartman, who is currently recording a new single and shooting a new music video for his new song called "We Are Americans," has also started an organization called "Faith, Freedom, Country," to help fight against the exact kind of hatred published by Hayley Geftman-Gold. Michael Shawn Hartman states, "I aim to bridge people across the political divide, and find our commonalities, not hatred."

President Trump gave a fitting speech today regarding the horrible tragedy, stating, "My fellow Americans, we are joined together today in sadness, shock, and grief. Last night, a gunman opened fire on a large crowd at a country music concert in Las Vegas, Nevada. He brutally murdered more than 50 people, and wounded hundreds more. It was an act of pure evil. The FBI and the Department of Homeland Security are working closely with local authorities to assist with the investigation, and they will provide updates as to the investigation and how it develops."

The President continued, "I want to thank the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department and all of the first responders for their courageous efforts, and for helping to save the lives of so many. The speed with which they acted is miraculous, and prevented further loss of life. To have found the shooter so quickly after the first shots were fired is something for which we will always be thankful and grateful. It shows what true professionalism is all about."

He added, "Hundreds of our fellow citizens are now mourning the sudden loss of a loved one -- a parent, a child, a brother or sister. We cannot fathom their pain. We cannot imagine their loss. To the families of the victims: We are praying for you and we are here for you, and we ask God to help see you through this very dark period."

President Trump spoke of Faith when he stated, "Scripture teaches us, 'The Lord is close to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.' We seek comfort in those words, for we know that God lives in the hearts of those who grieve. To the wounded who are now recovering in hospitals, we are praying for your full and speedy recovery, and pledge to you our support from this day forward. In memory of the fallen, I have directed that our great flag be flown at half-staff. I will be visiting Las Vegas on Wednesday to meet with law enforcement, first responders, and the families of the victims."

The President continued, "In moments of tragedy and horror, America comes together as one -- and it always has. We call upon the bonds that unite us -- our faith, our family, and our shared values. We call upon the bonds of citizenship, the ties of community, and the comfort of our common humanity. Our unity cannot be shattered by evil. Our bonds cannot be broken by violence. And though we feel such great anger at the senseless murder of our fellow citizens, it is our love that defines us today -- and always will, forever."

Country star Michael Shawn Hartman stated that he shares in the President's sentiments, stating, "Though we are saddened by the oppression and evil of some other people, let America stand proud and strong, and let us unite with each other, under our history and beliefs of standing by each other in such times." Michael says to the victims and the loved ones of victim, to "Please--Stay strong. Feel the love that has been taken from you, and use that to make you stronger."

President Donald J. Trump, reflecting similar beliefs stated, "In times such as these, I know we are searching for some kind of meaning in the chaos, some kind of light in the darkness. The answers do not come easy. But we can take solace knowing that even the darkest space can be brightened by a single light, and even the most terrible despair can be illuminated by a single ray of hope."

The President went on saying, "Melania and I are praying for every American who has been hurt, wounded, or lost the ones they love so dearly in this terrible, terrible attack. We pray for the entire nation to find unity and peace. And we pray for the day when evil is banished, and the innocent are safe from hatred and from fear. May God bless the souls of the lives that are lost. May God give us the grace of healing. And may God provide the grieving families with strength to carry on. Thank you. God bless America. Thank you."
