

The Biz Nation to Rally Leaders of the Future at One Young World Summit 2017

The Colombian startup to address thousands of young leaders from 196 different countries on the power of global entrepreneurship and education.

MIAMI , FL, US, October 5, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Biz Nation, the online education platform that fosters entrepreneurship and financial intelligence across Latin America, will lend their counsel and business insight to the thousands of attendees from around the globe at the One Young World Summit, which takes place in Bogota, Colombia from October 4-7, 2017.

Karen, Stephanie and Daniela Carvajalino, sisters and co-founders of The Biz Nation, will work with these young leaders addressing challenges across the fields of education, entrepreneurship and business development.

"The issues presented at One Young World are ones directly affecting youth today and for generations to come," said Daniela Carvajalino, CEO and co-founder of The Biz Nation. "In discussing entrepreneurship, innovation and technology, we at The Biz Nation look forward to ensuring that young people are not only on the agenda, but also have a strategic seat at the table."

The annual One Young World Summit brings together the most valuable young talent from global and national companies, NGOs, universities and other forward-thinking organizations. Attendees meet and make lasting connections with peers, mentors and thought leaders across almost every industry and country. At the Summit, delegates debate, formulate and share innovative solutions for the pressing issues the world faces.

“Issues of unemployment and inequality can seem overwhelming, every opportunity for us to teach entrepreneurship and innovation can make a difference and solve a small piece of these problems.”

Daniela Carvajalino

"We're incredibly grateful for this opportunity to bring our dynamic ideas on education, sustainability and entrepreneurship to an extraordinarily motivated and engaged group of young people," said Carvajalino. "Thanks to the support of Kennesaw State University, we're going to be able to teach future entrepreneurs and change-makers about the power of business ownership, and inspire them to create new businesses and jobs while generating social and economic progress across their communities."

The Biz Nation is online educational platform and movement that seeks to create economic and social impact across Latin America through progressive entrepreneurial content. The company focuses on providing students with an experiential and dynamic online program that guides them through the creation and process of owning a business while developing the leadership skills and financial acumen to sustain it. The Biz Nation also trains and certifies teachers on its proprietary educational methodology to maximize the results of its program beyond its online classes. Furthermore, The Biz Nation now aims expand into the United States and beyond following the shift of its existing international sales operation to Miami, Florida through the help of VIAGlobal, the Miami and San Francisco-based company that helps international startups evaluate and execute against their U.S. market potential.

"We look forward to participating in the One Young World Summit this year and reinforcing that global business can be a force for good," added Carvajalino. "While the worldwide issues of unemployment and inequality can seem overwhelming, every opportunity for us to teach entrepreneurship and innovation can make a difference and solve a small piece of these problems."
