Belinda Baker develops fragrance line in memory of 12-year-old granddaughter who died from HPV.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, November 20, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Belinda Baker, star of the day time talk show, “Changing Steps” announced the launch of her new fragrance line, “Kiya 12.” Earlier this year Ms. Baker’s grand-daughter Kiya died at 12 from the Human papillomavirus (HPV) disease, a viral infection that often goes unnoticed and undetected.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), each year about 39,800 new cases of cancer are found in parts of the body where HPV is often found. HPV causes about 31,500 of these cancers. Improved awareness of HPV vaccines could increase vaccines earlier in adolescents, thereby reducing later risk for HPV infection and cancer.

“My baby died of HPV at 12 years old. She will never be forgotten. I am also going to ensure that other parents and grandparents never have to feel the pain of losing a child,” says Belinda Baker. “30 percent of all sales goes towards awareness of this cancerous disease. We are not going to stop until every parent knows about the dangers of HPV.”
