“We are thrilled to introduce our senior care services programs tailored to each elderly client said Nana Kwesi Baisel, President of Precedence Home Healthcare. The company hires qualified, experienced and compassionate, and empathetic caregivers to care for the evolving needs of baby boomers in the community.”

Nana Kwesi Baisel continued, “Seniors’ current home living conditions contradict the prospect of lifelong independent living. We strive to elevate the standard of care for the elderly in our community by redesigning their environment to meet their needs and requirements. Our team is dedicated and committed to assisting senior citizens to improve their well-being and health and learn to cope with aging by creating an environment where they do not feel dependent on others.”

“After working within the healthcare industry for many years, it became clear to me that more senior care services needed in our area,” said Nana Kwesi Baisel. “Precedence Home Healthcare is growing to become a leader in senior care, which is one of the reasons why are proud to offer award-winning services to local families in need.”

By working with case managers, social workers, discharge planners, doctors, and families, Precedence Home Healthcare give affordable, comprehensive care solutions matched to meet client physical or social needs. The quality home care services of the Precedence Home Healthcare include non-medical in-home care services, and finder assisted living and referral services, with skilled home health care our next phased.

The company desires to change how seniors age, by giving them a choice to receive quality care from caring caregivers, without having to leave their home to receive care. We want to provide the elderly with the care that allows them to live a long, happy, and healthy life at home.
