Essay requirements for the Caitlan Wallace Memorial Scholarship:

The advent of safe phones, texting, and social media has led to an increase of traffic accidents due to distracted driving. In a two-page essay please discuss the necessity for safe driving and the perils of distracted driving. We ask that this essay be a concisely written creative essay that can be shared in Memory of Caitlan Wallace and her tragic automobile death.

Essay Format:

Use the basic principles of an opinion essay:

An Introduction that previews the 3 essential points of the essay

A Body that discusses each point of your argument for safe driving

A Conclusion that summarizes your points

The essays will be judged on academic excellence, writing style and the concise conveyance of the points you make highlighting the need for safe driving.

The work must be original and unpublished. The writing will be checked for plagiarism and writings that were previously published on any kind of media outlets, including personal blogs, Facebook pages and similar platforms, will not be considered applicable.

The essay must include at least three official and authentic sources to corroborate your argumentation. Once you submit your essay, you give ipewoods.com permission to use it for commercial purposes.

Writing Guidelines:

The essay must follow a logical reasoning as your writing must be based on factual and logical arguments to prove your point.

The writing style is free, as creativity is also evaluated. We welcome and cherish conceptual writing, provided that you follow the aforementioned guidelines of argumentation and remain objective.

The writing must explain a particular point of view and prove it reasonable and logical based on the official sources you have to include in your writing.

The sources that refer to objective statements must be cited as quotations, whilst official data sources, like statistical data, can be simply referred at the end of the writing by an index markers system of your preference, i.e., "1, 2, 3, 4...."; "**, **, ***".

Both types of sources, either quoted statements or data sources must be referred at the end of the essay in a separate section that must be titled "References". You must include links for the official websites where the information can be accessed or, in the case of books and other printed media, you must include an extended reference with the number of the page and paragraph where the data or statement can be found, as well as the year of the publication, and the name of the book and the author.

Once again, note that the essay must follow a logical reasoning. Religious books or any other kind of abstract, empiric or non-scientific sources are not valid to corroborate your argumentation and you will be eliminated from the contest. Your essay must be saved as a ".doc" file.
