

Vice President Mike Pence's Christian Faith Attacked--Country Star Michael Shawn Hartman Speaks Out

Vice President Mike Pence's Christian Faith Attacked on The View. Country Star Michael Shawn Hartman Condemns Bigotry--Releases New Tribute to USA

MALIBU, CALIFORNIA, USA, February 18, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Vice President Mike Pence's Christian faith was reportedly attacked by Joy Behar and Omarosa Newman on the TV show 'The View' this week. On 'The View,' on ABC, Behar suggested that Vice President Mike Pence has a mental illness because he feels that--according to Omarosa--Jesus tells him what to say. Behar, who calls herself a Christian, reportedly compared such a religious belief to schizophrenia. Bahar later claimed to be joking, although she reportedly didn't sound like it at the time to many.

Country star Michael Shawn Hartman says about the matter, "It sounds to me like the classic verbal abuse tactic of--I'm going to ridicule you, and not just ridicule you, but do so in public, and then say--haha! Just kidding. It's a way to try avoid responsibility for one's actions." Michael adds, "Is Joy Behar going to 'joke' about Islam? I doubt it. She knows--like most do, that most Christians are good, peaceful people, and a safe target for abuse. This needs to stop."

In other recent news, U.S. skier Lindsey Vonn recently failed to win any medals in the 2018 Olympics, and many of her critics laughed at her, blaming her karma for reportedly attacking President Trump just two months earlier. Some reportedly tweeted that they had wished she would get hurt.

The hatred throughout America and the world between both sides of the political spectrum is undoubtedly, very high.

Michael Shawn Hartman states the he has released a new song, for this very reason, titled "We Are American's." The song is a tribute to America, and also supports Michael Shawn Hartman's fan club and his organization called "Faith, Freedom, Country." The fan club and organization, the singer says, shares the simple goal of promoting country music, healing the national divide, and promoting positive messages for America and all American's in general." Country music makes me happy when I hear it. It makes me feel good. I want to do the same for people. I want to make people happy and feel good with my music, and I want to spread the message of happiness and love for all of our neighbors--not hatred."

Country singer Michael Shawn Hartman has released "We Are American's" as a tribute to the victims, and ultimately, as a tribute to America and the soldiers who have fought to defend our borders throughout history. The Hollywood Sentinel stated earlier this week that Michael Shawn Hartman consistently delivers really great songs that are always very memorable. "We Are American's" should be played at the White House, Hollywood Sentinel's Bruce Edwin states. It's a beautiful ballad, and--even if you hate this great country, you have to admit that."

ABOUT MICHAEL SHAWN HARTMAN

Recently named "The Next Johnny Cash," country star Michael Shawn Hartman was heard recently in the media (FOX NEWS), suggesting that America's self-esteem had been damaged by criticizing America, political party members, and our U.S. President, and hopes to help fix that. He stunningly learned to play over 500 songs, and as a "masterful songwriter" (www.HOLLYWOODSENTINEL.com) has written nearly 100 new songs, with several of his newly released tracks, now on his website found below, being called "brilliant" by press. According to a report on ABC news, Michael Shawn Hartman started his organization FAITH, FREEDOM, COUNTRY; to help advance positive messages in country music, and help stop hatred. The singer now even has Official T-shirts, celebrating just that, found at his website below, for fans. While other classmates were busy collecting bugs and baseball cards, a young Michael Shawn was busy jamming. The singer, songwriter, and guitarist, who Hollywood Sentinel hails as "The next Johnny Cash," began playing guitar at the young age of nine years old.

Having learned how to play five-hundred songs in the band "Step In Country," Michael was later invited to play a benefit concert back in 2010, and by this time had written sixty-five songs of his own. He later called up his old bass player, and the rest is history. Living just an hour drive from Niagara
