About Filippo Sinisgalli, Il Palato Italiano Executive Chef

Executive Chef Filippo Sinisgalli and member of the elite organization Euro-Toques Italia board for "Toques D'or International is committed to promoting the authentic Italian cuisine for years, is the pillar of the Il Palato Italiano project. The Michelin Star awarded chef's passion for cooking began with the discipline of the Italian Navy, which was then enriched by an articulated and comprehensive training at Gualtiero Marchesi's school. He is supported by the Brigade he leads, a Sommelier with a profound knowledge of the world of producers, a careful and experienced Maître and the highly trained support staff. For every evening experience, a team of over 10 people is at your complete disposal. Even for the Chef and his Brigade, every exclusive Lunch and Dinner turn into the valuable opportunity of creating a new and harmonious composition, tailor made to the guests' requests.

It takes indeed up to 48 hours of study and preparation for a lunch or dinner at Il Palato Italiano to be, first and foremost, a unique experience. Special occasions resulting from the research, study and tests of menus which are paired with wines that are personally selected by our Sommelier. From the identification and selection of the raw materials to the definition of the courses in every detail, work starts days in advance. For everyone it is a crescendo of passion that reaches its climax in the hours before the event when, from the morning, specific preparations start in the Main Kitchen and Garde-manger.
