

MyPhonePouch Expands Innovative Cell Phone Holder Product Line with the Addition of More Sizes and Colors

Ingenious cell phone holder accessory tucks over any snug, fitted waistband allowing the user to instantly add pockets to almost any outfit, no belt required

SUWANEE, GA, UNITED STATES, March 12, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- MyPhonePouch™ LLC, designer and provider of an innovative cell phone pouch, announced the expansion of its product line of their patent-pending accessory that is an ingenious alternative to carrying a cell phone in a pocket, purse, or in your hand.

Made of high-quality performance fabric, MyPhonePouch is a soft, stretchy phone holder accessory that is worn tucked over any snug waistband (or belt), allowing the user to instantly add pockets to almost any outfit. MyPhonePouch is particularly ideal for women and girls who frequently struggle to keep up with their phones as they often don't have pockets in their outfits or the pockets are too small for today's larger phones. MyPhonePouch pivots with the user during movement so they can easily sit, bend, and even recline without having to adjust their phone or fear sitting on and breaking their phone

MyPhonePouch originally launched in January 2018 with the size medium. Now with the addition of the sizes large and small, the product line has expanded to fit almost any phone on the market, working optimally with phones that have slim, smooth phone cases. The sizes now available are small, small-slim, medium, medium-slim, large and large-wide. The MyPhonePouch product line has also expanded its color options to broaden its market appeal.

The patent-pending brainchild of founder and owner Allison Santini, MyPhonePouch is designed to help people better keep up with one of their most important possessions, their cell phone.

According to Santini, "This clever, affordable, highly-functional accessory solves many of the nagging daily problems of how to carry your phone, forgetting where you left your phone, taking your phone out of your pocket every time you sit down, or worse, sitting on breaking your phone. Almost every other phone holster on the market is designed for men and they are typically rigid, clunky and require the user to affix their phone onto a belt. While MyPhonePouch works great tucked over a belt, no belt is needed to wear it and there are no straps across your body. There is absolutely nothing else available on the market like MyPhonePouch as it is truly an original, unique, and game-changing phone holder accessory."

With MyPhonePouch, misplacing a phone, sitting on a phone, fumbling and dropping a phone, unintended “butt-dials” and other stressful struggles related to keeping up with your cell phone can soon be a thing of the past. MyPhonePouch is currently available to purchase online at <http://www.myphonepouch.com/order-now> and will soon expand into other online and retail outlets.
