Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers Expands Reach With Palm

Harbor Clinic

Tampa, FL (March 12, 2018) – Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers announced today that it has opened a new clinic in Palm Harbor at 3131 N. McMullen Booth Rd. Clearwater, FL 33761. The Palm Harbor location will serve prospective and current patients of Vein911 Vein Treatment Centers that live in Northern Pinellas county including Clearwater, Safety Harbor, Countryside, Oldsmar, and Westchase. The clinic is conveniently located within the Diagnostic Clinic Medical Group facility owned by the GuideWell family of companies.

This is Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers third clinic in the Tampa Bay area. It currently has locations in Tampa and St. Petersburg. The organization has immediate growth plans to develop clinics in Largo, Sarasota, and Land O Lakes. It is also evaluating other expansion opportunities across Florida, including Orlando, Jacksonville, Naples, West Palm Beach, and Miami.

The opening of the Palm Harbor clinic comes in conjunction with the launch of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers Telemedicine services. The telemedicine services will allow patients of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers to communicate with their physicians via a completely secure, HIPAA compliant, and fully encrypted connection. Patients will have the option to use their smart phone, tablet, or personal computer to have an initial consultation or follow up appointment for the treatment of varicose veins, spider veins, leg swelling, and lymphedema.

“We are very excited to be developing more clinics across the State of Florida,” said Chris Pittman, M.D., Medical Director and CEO of Vein911® Vein Treatment Centers. “Our geographic expansion paired with our newly implemented telemedicine practice will help to ensure that we are Americas choice for vein care.”
