About Back to Panda

Back to Panda is a two-people team consisting of a developer/designer and a writer. First successful project was launched in May, 2017. It was called God of Magic, downloaded about 400.000 times organically, and has a rating of 4.5 on Google Play Store. The team has been working on the game ever since. Magic Story is the fruit of all the things we have learned in the past two years on both the developing and story-telling side. It's both a sequel to God of Magic and a story that can be enjoyed on its own.
