

Attorney General Schneiderman involved in covering-up thousands of assaults

For years, AG Schneiderman has looked the other way as sexual predators and people that physically assault the disabled escape justice.

ALBANY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 8, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- New York State Attorney General Eric Schneiderman, for a number of years, has known of the ongoing cover-ups of most reported physical and sexual assaults of innocent children and adults with disabilities by their caregivers in State and private residential facilities and group homes. As the Attorney General he had the responsibility to protect and ensure the equal rights of all New Yorkers, but instead he ensured that they were not protected from their abusers and he violated their civil rights.

Enough is Enough - Attorney General must be held accountable for the State and federal crimes he has committed

Many certified letters with return receipts were written by Civil Rights and Disability Rights Advocate, Michael Carey, requesting Attorney General Schneiderman to take emergency actions, but instead he chose to be part of the cover-ups. Literally, thousands of physical and sexual assaults have been covered-up because of Attorney General Eric Schneiderman.

Attorney General Eric Schneiderman must be held accountable for all of the State and federal crimes that he has committed. Crimes against women and people with disabilities are unconscionable.
