This innovative and environmentally friendly company provides its clientele with products made from safe, soothing and luxurious ingredients that meet the highest international standards of body care, including “reef safe” sun block.

“Our products are super soothing”, says Tritt. “Many people have sensitive skin issues that are a real problem. I make products that use only the best natural floral and plant extracts and, for instance with sun block, the highest quality zinc. All of our products are non-toxic and lab-tested. Original Sprout products don’t contain the chemical additives typically found in other brands. We strive to make the best products for the whole family. We’re not just for baby. Our Tahitian Collection products will make your hair and skin look amazing!”

Original Sprout boasts an entire line of products including shampoos, conditioners, body washes, styling products and creams, all of which are non-toxic and safe for sensitive skin issues. Composed of organic extracts and other soothing materials, consumers now have an option to naturally protect the hair and body. All Original Sprout products are formulated, bottled, packaged and shipped from company facilities located in San Clemente, CA, USA.

“We have cultivated a worldwide distribution network and also included family destination favorites like Disney resorts!” said David Neibert. “Our products are widely available to everyone through health food stores, beauty salons, international distributors and, of course, online.”

“Saving the environment is a priority for everyone,” says J.L. Haber, Vice President of Programming. “Helping individuals deal with sensitive skin issues while not compromising the beautifying effects is something that puts this product on the radar. There are many that tout treatments for eczema and other skin disorders, but this one really stays true to its word.”
