RhinoFit Membership Management Software

Since utilizing the RhinoFit gym management software, fitness facilities all across the country have been reporting on the success they have experienced in the area of management, courtesy in no small part of the platform's intuitiveness. From not having to worry about payments going through, scheduling, inventory or paying/keeping track of bills to being able to focus on clients and training, business owners are finding RhinoFit's customer service to be second to none, regularly citing the system's constantly-evolving platform that makes it wholeheartedly easy to endorse.

One of the most popular features of the RhinoFit system has been the 24/7 Access element, as owners can keep their gyms open around the clock to increase revenue, attendance, memberships, and retention. The 24/7 add-on feature opens turnstiles or doors once a validated and up-to-date membership is scanned, and the application is available throughout the U.S. and Canada.

As a whole package, the RhinoFit software offers a complete suite of features for various business model types including simple one-time and recurring billing, gym check-in and attendance tracking, individual and class scheduling, social marketing integration, customizable digital waivers and registration, performance tracking and benchmarks, rank and belt management and other operational tasks. These capabilities enable RhinoFit's system to be integrated into a plethora of applications for large fitness clubs, affiliate gyms, martial arts studios, personal trainers, fitness boot camps and more.

RhinoFit is also being recognized for its use in dance studios, the feature-loaded management software proving excellent for making operations more streamlined. With a platform accessible via PC, Android and Apple mobile devices, operators of dance studios can utilize RhinoFit to create custom memberships, packages and punch passes, and can even charge dancers once or on a recurring basis. Further, dance studios can build a custom product store, track their inventory and sell their products online or at their business with easy-to-use product management tools, while online waivers and health forms can be created to capture signatures with a simple mouse grab or finger touch.
