MxHero Launches New Enterprise Statistics Module To Mail2Cloud Offering - Providing Content Insights

MxHero's Mail2Cloud product now with advanced admin stats of service performance and usage. Reports reveal thousands of emails & attachments auto-secured.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, UNITED STATES, July 13, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The latest release of MxHero's Mail2Cloud product adds advanced administrative statistics for monitoring service performance and usage. The new metrics will provide organizations with content insights and reveal details around the thousands of emails and email attachments automatically secured to cloud storage targets via the Mail2Cloud platform.

Email and cloud integration technology company, mxHero, has recently added advanced reporting capabilities to its Mail2Cloud suite. Mail2Cloud is an enterprise application that transparently integrates a company's email with their backend cloud-enabled content storage service (ex. Box, OneDrive, Egnyte, Google Drive, etc.). The new capabilities provide Mail2Cloud administrators the ability to monitor the service's utilization. Reports include:

mxHero Inc.

Now with the new system's statistics module, companies can readily ascertain the significant benefit of the Mail2Cloud product"

Alex Panagides, CEO, mxHero Inc.

* Number of attachments automatically replaced with secure cloud storage links
* Number of email messages saved and auto-classified by mxHero
* Emails auto-encrypted for transparent and compliant delivery

"We're super excited about this new update to our Mail2Cloud suite. One of the best aspects of Mail2Cloud is its transparency and security mechanisms. A company can now combine the benefits of cloud storage and email, with minimal change management and without end user effort. However, because of this transparency, the value of mxHero has been hard to quantify. Now with the new system's statistics module, companies can readily ascertain the significant benefit of the Mail2Cloud product," states Alex Panagides (CEO, mxHero Inc.)
