The 2018 hurricane season is in full force, and Comfort Keepers Fort Myers is eager to help you prepare. They have created a Hurricane Preparations Program to provide additional resources and information for you and your family to remain safe and prepared in the event there is a hurricane or tropical storm.

Southwest Florida is no stranger to Florida's intense hurricane season. The creation of Comfort Keepers' Hurricane Preparation Program was prompted after a major hurricane, Hurricane Irma, hit the area in 2017. Being prepared before a natural disaster occurs is the key to keeping your family and possessions as safe as possible.

The main purpose of this program is to prepare and help as many families as we possibly can from the potentially detrimental outcomes of hurricanes and tropical storms.”

Dawn Pudlin, General Manager CK Ft. Myers

Southwest Florida is among the many areas that fall victim to tropical storms and hurricanes. These storms can tear through towns leaving behind significant damages including flooding, down trees/power lines, and home damage. These types of damages often take time to fix. So, it is smart to be prepared ahead of time to make any recovery a bit smoother.

The Hurricane Preparation Program offers an abundance of advice including, recommendations for what should be incorporated into a disaster preparation kit, what important documents you should never leave behind in the event of a storm, and the locations of emergency shelters in your area. Comfort Keepers Fort Myers believes, one of the best ways to be prepared for an event is to be well informed.

The program also offers to go over flood zones in your area with your family. The care team will help assess items that may need to be moved out of flood level locations and will even photograph personal property for your records if needed. Flooding is one of the top significant issues a hurricane or tropical storm can cause.

Dawn Pudlin, general manager of Comfort Keepers Fort Myers, said, “The main purpose of this program is to prepare and help as many families as we possibly can from the potentially detrimental outcomes of hurricanes and tropical storms.”

The $75 program includes a disaster starter kit to kickstart your preparedness plan amongst many other beneficial items. Comfort Keepers also provides a free All Hazards Guide which provides information on how to be prepared for any disaster that may occur nearby, whether that be natural or manmade.

“Last year during Hurricane Irma, we were able to help out so many people including caregivers and clients.” Pudlin said, “We wanted to create a program to help even more people this year in the event another storm hits Florida.”
